Yost-A Large Crowd at Staunton, Other Campaign Matters.

FARMVILLE, VA., Oct. 22.—Special.—The Democrats of Cumberland Courthouse again crowned themselves with distinction to-day by another victorious attack on the enemy. Governor O'Ferrall arrived by the Farmville and Powhatan railroad this morning, and though the weather was threatening the enthusiastic Democrats turned out in good order to exceet him.

Democrats turned out in good that greet him.

The Governor, though filled to the brim with facts and figures that would convince the most darkened intellect, impressed his hearers by his earnest and sincere manner that also near; was particle of the most darkened in this cause as his head. For two hours he held the crowd as by some magic power, and many of the enthusiastic Democrats who heard him went away with a more brainy interest in the cause.

Cause.

Colonel Craig, of Staunton, represented the Republican cause, and did his part accepting to the programme from the porch of the clerk's office building. He conducted the meeting for the Republicans. His audience cheered in and out cans. His audience cheered in and out of season.

Take it altogether, the two crowds made an object lesson, too plain not to be learned by the most ordinary mind-that Democracy consists of the intelligence, and honest type of citizens, while the Republican party was marked with the brand of intense ignorance and stupidity. Cumberland will give Tucker a handsome majority. some majority.

TUCKER AND TOST AT STAUNTON.

STAUNTON, VA., Oct. 22.—Special.— There was the largest crowd present here to-day for many court-days past. Mr. Tucker and Mr. Yost were announced for a joint discussion and it was hoped that General Lee would be present also, but he could not come and Tucker and Yost had it all to themselves. Mr. Yost led off in an hour; Mr. Tucker followed in an hour and a quarter. Yost rejined in thirty minutes, and Tucker closed in afteen minutes.

Tucker said he voted to a set the seigniorage bill over Cleveland's veto because it would give more money to the people. He made a severe arraignment of Yost on his votes for pensions.

It was a sharp, brilliant, spirited discussion, greatly enjoyed on all hands. It sets the campaign hot from new-on.

Big Meeting at Houston,

Big Meeting at Houston.

HOUSTON, VA., Oct. 22.—Special.—Today is the first day of October court, and perhaps the largest crowd that ever attended court here was on the court green, attracted mainly to hear the issues on the pending campaign discussed. The Populists were represented by the Prohibition-Populist candidate, O. C. Rucker and Rev. S. B. Kecsee, of Pittsylvania county the Democrats by Major Peter J. Otey, Colonel John Goode and Senator John W. Daniel; the Republicans by Thomas J. Claiborne, of Roanoke, and J. B. Stovall, of this county.

The Populist meeting was held in the Watkins warehouse, the Democrats in the Citizens' warehouse, and the Republicans in the open air. The Democrats and Populists had each about one thousand in their meeting, about two-thirds of the Populists being colored.

Otey, the first Democratic speaker, was introduced by County Chairman B. W. Leigh, and made a brief, but good speech, arousing much enthustasm. Colonel Goode was introduced by Mr. W. P. Harksdale, and made a splendid address, exposing the enormities of Republican misrule and its disastrous results upon the country, and urging the people to stand by the Democracy, which he showed was their only hope of escape.

SENATOR DANIEL'S SPEECH.

Major Daniel followed in one of his magnificent efforts, which was one of the ablest and most jucid discussions of the political issues ever listened to by a Hallfax audience, and all the speakers were liberally applauded, and enthusiasm previled throughout.

Mr. Rucker made a fairly good speech previled throughout.

Mr. Rucker made a fairly good speech from his standpoint, attacking, in a desultery manner, the record of the two dominant political parties.

The Republicans had also dominant political parties.

The Republicans had altogether colored people in their meeting, and their Mr. Claiborne was one of the weakest men ever heard upon the hustings here, except, perhaps, the Rev. Keesse, of the Populists.

It is evident that the Democrats are gaining ground, and Otey's prospects are brightening every day.

Major Hoge Tyler and Lec.

Major Hoge Tyler and Lec.

LAWRENCEVILLE, VA., Oct. 22—Special.—Ex-Lieutenant Hoge Tyler, supplemented by Major Baker P. Lee, addressed our people to-day. Both were new men. An affection of the throat compeller Lieutenant-Governor Tyler to speak under cover. He addressed in our court-house an audlence composed of the opinion-ion-making men of the county. If speeches can do so, those heard to-day will bring out the Democratic vote of the county.

Governor Tyler's speech was re-Governor Tyler's speech was replete with facts and arguments most happily illustrated with wit and humor, so prettily and plaufly put as to reach the most ordinary comprehension. No supplement could have been better before the audience he addressed 'han that of Major Lee. It was an oration elevated, scholarly and instructive, elequently delivered. The effect, it is believed, will be to harmonize the party, and inspire and arouse them to do their duty.

Major Gaines, of Burkeville, advocated Republicanism, with the usual noise, on the court ground.

ASHLAND, VA. Oct. 22.—Special.—In the interview published in Sunday's issue with Mr. E. L. C. Scott, chairman of the Democratic county committee, he is quoted as saying: "The Populist party has awakened to a considerable extent."
The correspondent, of course, wrote: "The Populist party has weakened to a considerable extent."
He was seen to-day, and in substantlation of the above, he said he had seen several gentlemen, at different precincts in the county, who last year were active in the Populist cause, but now have told him they would support the nominees of the Democratic party, and intended to work for them from new until after the election of November 6th. The chairman said he knew The Times misquoted him unintentionally, but he wished the correction made, as it put him in a very false position.

Alexander and Louthan.

LURAY, VA., Oct. 22.—Special.—A very large crowd of the people of Page gathered in the court-house at this place this evening to listen to a Joint discussion between Mr. W. R. Alexander, Democrat, of Winchester, and Mr. Carter M. Louthan, Republican, of Madison. Mr. Alexander opened in a speech of one hour, and won warm applause. He was followed by Mr. Louthan, in a speech of an hour and a haif, abounding in ancedotes, but leaving the questions of the day out of his speech. Alexander closed in a ratting argument of half an hour, carrying the crowd with him. Page is waking up to the questions involved, and will not be lagging on November 6th.

Said He Was Sand_Bagged.

Said He Was Sand, Dagged.

Some days since The Times published an account of the sand-bagging of Mr. J. O. Morris, giving a story of his experience and the theft of money from his person. This paper on Sunday published a statement from police headquarters, stating that it was probable that Mr. Morris had played a fake game. Mr. Morris desires to state that he could have had no reason to fake any one; that he owes only fifty dollars, and could, on a salary of fifty dollars per month, pay his debts one hundred cents on the dollar. Mr. Morris asserts that he did borrow ten dollars on his watch, and, after making one bet, lost five dollars. Then he bet again, and won fifteen dollars, redeeming his watch, and, going back, he lost another five. Being broke, he borrowed five more on his watch, and, making another bet, won twenty-five dollars. It being late, he was auxious to go home, and, coming out of the Broad-street gate, he showed ten dollars to Mr. James Baker and asked him to have oysters with him. Then he turned the corner of the Exposition Grounds' fence, going towards Marshall street, expecting to take the Marshall-street car for home. Before he got more than two-thirds of the way he was knocked down and robbed of his money. His physician asserts that he was certainly struck severely, and, from the wound, they think he was sand-bagged. Mr. Morris has been confined to his bed ever since.

CAPT. PROCTOR'S SUICIDE

WELL-KNOWN PRINCE GEORGE MAN TAKES HIS OWN LIFE.

Patersburg Council Accepts the Proposi. "tion for the Sale of the Virginia and Carolina-Virginia Synod, PETERSBURG, VA., Oct. 22.—Special.—The friends of Capt. William H. Proctor here in Petersburg were greatly shocked to-day to learn that he committed suicide this morning at 7 o'clock at the residence of his sister, Miss Bettie Proctor in Prince George county. Captain Proctor had been despondent and low-spirited for some time, but no one had any idea that he contemplated suicide.

Captain Proctor failed to come down to the 4 reakfast table this morning, and Miss Proctor sent a message up to his room to know if he would have his treakfast sent up to him. He sent word back that he didn't care for anything to eat, and a few moments later the report of the discharge of a pistol was heard in Captain Proctor's room. A member of the family rushed up to the room, when it was found that Captain Proctor had shot and killed himself.

A Delinerrate suicide.

The suicide was a cool and deliberate one. At the time that Captain Proctor shot himself he was in a sitting posture on a rug in front of the fire-piace. He had placed the muzzle of a 22-calibre Smith & Wesson revolver under his gauze shirt immediately over his heart, and fired the fatal shot. The ball did not go through his body.

he Richmond, Petersburg and Carolina railroad.

Ist. The city is to convey to Mr. R. B. Davis and his associates its interest in the property and incomplete works and its franchise in the railroad, and all of the shares of stock therein created by the Council.

24. The purchasers or the company are to execute a mortgage on the railroad not exceeding $29,000 per mile, in which $100,000 of 5 per cent, bonds are to be secured to the city as a prior lien to all other calims or debts against the company, whether secured in the mortgage or not until the completion of the road, and then the city's $199,600 of bonds are to stand on the same footing as the other bonds secured on the mortgage, and are further to denosit in bank $25,000 in money or securities, which are to be forfeited to the city if the road be not built by July 1, 1896.

24. The road is to be of standard guase, well sraded, and the work to be completed by July 1, 1896.

The proposition, after much discussion, was adopted, with the understanding that when the final contract for the sale of the road is presented to the Council at its next regular meeting such suggestions as to changes can be made by the Council, if it sees it to do so.

DEATH OF DR. SHIBLD. The Assistant Physician of the Eastern

State Hospital.

WILLIAMSBURG. VA., Oct. 22.—Special.—Dr. W. H. Shield, assistant physician at the Eastern State Hospital, died here to-night at 6:30 o'clock after an illness of several weeks. Dr. Shield was born in York county. Va., in 1834, and was, therefore, in his sixty-first year.

He was educated at the College of William and Mary and the University of Virginia, and graduated in medicine from Jefferson's Medical College, Philadelphia, in 1856. He entered the Confederate army in 1861 as surgeon of the Thirty-accond Virginia Infantry, and was made surgeon of Corse's Brigade in 1852. He served through the entire war, returning to his native county after the war and resumed the practice of medicine.

In 1859 was appointed a member of the board of directors of the hospital, and in 1859 was elected assistant physician, which position he held up to the time of his death. Dr. Shield was a gentleman of high intellectual attalnments, and was considered a skilfni surgeon.

The funeral will take place to-morrow at 3 P. M. and the interment will be made in the soldlers' section of Cedar Grove cemetery. The obsequies will be in charge of Magrader-Ewell Camp, C. V., of which deceased was surgeon.

If Her Team Does Not Play the Volunteers

If Her Team Does Not Play the Volunteers
According to Agreement.

NEW YOR Oct. 22.—Manager Mamlok, of the Volunteers of this city, is considerably wrought up over the refusal of the Princeton team to play the Volunteers at Princeton next Saturday. Mamlok claims that the game was arranged by himself and the Princeton manager in perfectly good faith, but that he has received word that the Tigers will not play, because they believe that some of the Volunteers are professionals.

Mamlok, armed with eleven affdavits to the effect that his men are in the sport for fun, and a statement from James E. Sullivan, secretary of the Amateur Athletic Union, in the same strain, has endeavered to convince the Princeton men that they are wrong, but with poor success. So now he has decided to take some other action more effective. He declared yesterday that he had already engaged three cars to carry his men and their supporters to Princeton next Saturday, and that he would have his eleven on the field at the appointed time ready to play.

"If Princeton refuses then," said he, "I shall take steps to prevent the Tigers from playing another game this season. I have consulted my attorneys, and I know what I am talking about. I shall sue Princeton University, which is a corporation, and of which the foot-ball eleven is a part. The Volunteers never had a professional in their ranks, and Princeton's refusel to meet us is because they are afraid we will score on them, just as Cornell did on Saturday."

According to a Princeton man, the Tigers have refused to play because they have been told that the Volunteers do more slugging than foot-ball playing.

THE PRESIDENT'S RETURN.

Together with His Family, will leave Buzzard's Bay To-dar.

BUZZARDS BAY, MASS, Oct. 22.—
The presidential party, including the President and family, Mrs. Perrin Miss Rosa Cleveland, and the three detectives, who have been here all summer, will leave here to-morrow at 8.3 by a special train with a director's car 45-tached for their personal use. The train will run a special to Middleboro, and will be taken up by the regular express at Providence. Mr. Cleveland asserts that he is thoroughly rosted from his long vacation and feels in the best of health.

The Sante Fe Rebete Cases. CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—W. J. Jenkins, manager for G. H. Hammeng & Co. was the only person indicted in connection with the Santa Fe relate cases in fine United States Court this morning. Mr. Jenkins is charged with receiving rebates, and his bail was fixed at 8.000. Ex-Traffic Manager Hanley, of the Santa Fe, will give bail this afternoon, Judge Grosseup this morning fixed the bail of all the parties indicted. The bonds of Nelson, Marris, ex-President Reinhardt, and Mr. Hanley will be $10.000 each, and that of isaac Thompson, the shipper, the Same as Mr. Jenkins', $5.000.

therwise the game can be played on December 1st. By this meand Pennsy, were that the part in the rame position that Yale is in now. That is, that the Tisers and the Quakers would both have a hard game five days before they met Yale and Harvari respectively on Thankse, wing day; but as the Princeton Pennsy, ivariant game as a ready it in arranged for November 19th at Trenton, Yale's surjection that Yale and Princeton will meet on December 1st. The one remaining litch between the location versities seemed, Yale has shifted from a desire to go to Eastern Park, Brooklyn, and now shows a preferance for Reckeley Oval. Princeton, however, still sticks out for Manhattan Field.

Emery Outplayed,

Ell_ACKSBURG, V.A., Get. 22.—Special The Virginia Agricultural and Mechanical College of the fact that Empry's average was much more than the home yearn, they were outplayed at every point. V.A. M. bravery and ability of the Union senerals, with here and there a just criticism, and pays a tribute to the bravery of the soldiers on both sides. One of the penlarly interesting and we may truly say charming features of this biography as comprised in the many extracts that are given from the letters written by Gengiven from the letters written from the strong love of home and domestic qualities are here revealed, and through them and some other correspondence his made, for the first time, to give his here clearly revealed. After the war had closed Gen, Lee became president of Washington College in Virgina, and had a successful career in that capacity until his death in 1870. The author, in closing this most interesting biography of the Lee, says: "The profession of the solder has been honored by his renown, the cause of education by his renown, the cause of education by his virtues, religion, by his piety." The volume is linstrated with a fine frontspiece portrait and several maps. Published by D. Appleton & Co., New York; Boston branch in Franklin street; price, $1.50.—Hoston Home Journal.
